UNION, THE CONSTITUTION AND THE LAWS—THE GUARDIANS OF OUR LIBERTIES.

Vol. XLVII. HILLSBOROUGH, N. C., WEDNESDAY, JULY 22, 1868. No. 2448.

Report of the President of the North Carolina Rail Road.

President's Office, N. Carolina R. R. Co.,
Company Shops, June 25, 1868.

To the Board of Directors:

Gentlemen—I have the honor to submit to you, and through you to the Stockholders, the 19th annual report of the operations of the Road, for the fiscal year ending May 31st, 1868.

Receipts from all sources,	$585,411 09
Total expenses of operating the Road,	268,772 28
Leaving as net profits over operating expenses,		316,638 81
While the net profits over ordinary and extraordinary expenses, as shown by the Secretary, are		174,015 55

What has gone with this large net income before it could reach needy Stockholders in the shape of dividends, has been told in detail by the Treasurer and Secretary in their full and satisfactory reports.

Debt reported at last Annual Meeting,	$693,831 74
Debt arising on Confederate transactions for iron, damages in burning cotton, interest, &c., not fully ascertained at that time,	97,130 79
	790,962 53
Present debt of the Company.	580,134 92
Reduction of debt,		210,827 61

We started this year under most adverse auspices, this large debt was due to persons, most of whom were in great want of money. The Stockholders at their last meeting ordered the road to be mortgaged, and bonds to be sold to meet this debt. I visited New York for that purpose. When I talked in Wall street about selling bonds (80 cts.) eighty cents in the dollar was the highest price, because of the unsettled political condition of the South. If I would take 80 cents our political condition was forgotten, or at least not named. I was not willing to take 80 cents and lose $160,000 00 by such a sale of bonds. For this and other good reasons I delayed, and declined to execute the mortgage until very recently, when ordered by the Board. I have sold no bonds at less than par, and think it unwise to depart from this rule.

We owe it to the liberality of our bond holders, who have come forward and exchanged at par their old for new bonds, that we did not have to submit to the loss of $160,000 00 by sale of bonds at 80 cents. Other gentlemen I could name of those of whom we borrowed $172,639 00 last year, payable on demand, took 95,000 in bonds at par for their demand loan, which greatly relieved our wants and sustained our credit.

The Road has been operated under a tariff from 20 to 40 per cent. lower than any former tariff, on some articles the reduction has been 60 per cent. Notwithstanding this great reduction the receipts from freights this year are $42,428 91 more than freight receipts for last year. Our receipts on outgoing freights are not what they should be, owing to the want of prosperity and success in the agricultural operations of the country. Nor will they be until Congress learns the lesson taught by Edmund Burke, "that it is a perilous thing to experiment upon the farmer, for the trade of the farmer is one of the most precarious in its advantages, the most liable to loss and the least profitable that is carried on. It requires ten times more of labor, of vigilance, of attention, of skill, and let me add of good fortune also, to carry on the business of a farmer with success, than what belongs to any other trade."

"The farmer's capital is far more feeble than is commonly imagined. The trade is a very poor one: it is subject to great risks and losses. The capital is turned but once a year, and in some branches it requires three years before the money is paid."

Notwithstanding this poor trade, which the whole South follows, Congress has taxed our three leading articles of trade, to wit: Cotton, Corn, (in the shape of whiskey) and Tobacco, while the leading articles of the Northern farmer are untaxed, (to wit) wheat and hay. Such a tax on such a principle was never heard of before. The road has never been operated on so small an expenditure of money. This was done by dismissing all supernumeraries, such as pay masters, baggage masters, yard masters, dispatcher of trains, master bridge builders, master carpenters, and lessening the expenditures in the shops, on the track, on the train, and in every branch and department of the company's services. In this I had the co-operation of every chief officer of the road, and the first week's work in retrenchment, and reform, made a difference of $40,000 per annum in expenditure. We have operated the road with a view of changing the false policy of this and all other Southern roads, (i. e) of bringing cheaply by a low tariff all the goods and products of other states and by a high local tariff shutting up the market and preventing the shipment of the goods and products of our own people. I have known cabbage, onions, and potatoes when shipped on the road and sold in Wilmington and other markets, to bring the producer in debt by reason of the high tariff or freight charged by the road. Under the old system a farmer in Mecklenburg would pay as much to send a bacrel of flour to Goldsborough as a New York farmer would pay to send a barrel from New York to Charlotte. No country could stand such a tax upon its trade and labor, discriminating all the while against those whose industry and labor it should protect.

For the condition of the road bed, rolling stock, bridges and engines, I refer you to the report of the Superintendent. They never were in better condition, and the best proof of it is to be found in the fact that we have had no accident, run off or break up, or cotton burning, during the year. For this too much credit cannot be given to our Superintendent and the men under him, who drive and manage the engine, receive and deliver freight, collect tickets from passengers on their freight trains and without the aid of freight agents or conductors. They have had their hands full, and right nobly have they fufilled their tasks amid dust, dirt and danger.

"The new engine, Pioneer, built entire at the Company Shops, is doing good service, and reflects great credit on the skillful workmanship of R. D. Wade, our Master Machinist. I am told it is the first and only engine ever built entire in the State.

"Three new and elegant passenger cars, the handy work of B. E. Sergeant, are full proof that we need no longer rely upon Northern skill and labor for elegant or substantial work. What a pity! the pride and manhood of eight millions of Southern people could not unite in denying all commercial relations with Northern people so long as they refuse political relations with us. This would reconstruct us without the aid of the army or the sword."

At the close of the war the Company owned 862 bales of cotton, only 657 bales were sold and $66,028 38 was the net amount realized for said cotton, about 25 cents per pound when cotton was selling from 40 to 65 cents per pound. The Board appointed two of its members to hunt up this lost cotton; they have been for twelve months in search of it, but have never been able to find it. A part of this cotton was burnt, a part was stolen, and most of it sold at a price greatly below the market. I was told this week that by filing a bill in equity against certain parties that fraud and cotton might be discovered. A bill in equity has been filed to recover our lost sinking fund.

Our relations with all other roads are of a very satisfactory character. It will be remembered that the Stockholders in their last Annual Meeting instructed us to transport all freights when practicable over the entire length of the road. What they meant was that we should cease running our cars with our own freight off our own road, upon that of R. & G. R. R., and that we should carry our freight to Goldsborough. Before we were able to carry out the orders of the Stockholders we had lost $21,366 00 running cars and freight off the road at Raleigh. At last in March, 1868, an arrangement was made with the R. & G. R. R. that it would pay us for all through freights leaving or coming from its road to ours the same as if they went or came by Goldsborough. This arrangement has added to our receipts $42,000.

COLUMBIA AND AUGUSTA R. R.

This Road when completed will add much to our travel and freights. We shipped from South Carolina over our Road 23,766 bales of cotton, and sent to that State more than 6,000 tons of freight. Col. Johnson, President of that Rail Road, desired material aid from the N. C. R. R., that he might complete the Columbia and Augusta Road. The Directors of the N. C. R. R. doubted their authority to give the aid asked for, and referred the matter to the favorable consideration and action of the Stockholders.

I found many trivial suits in all the Courts along the line of the Road, mostly for killing cows and hogs. Though we pay promptly for killing cattle when notified, some persons prefer to sue and settle by judgment in court. In other countries when men or cattle trespass by walking on railroad tracks they are indicted for the trespass. In this country instead of indicting those who allow their cattle to run on rail road tracks, to the great danger of human life, we reward them by paying for the cow killed, although the cow may have been the means of killing a dozen men.

The Bureaus have been frequent and importunate in their demands for money due freedmen—as they said. The Superintendent dismissed a negro for stealing wood, he was caught in the act; the Bureau summoned the Superintendent to answer for his conduct. I was several times summoned to answer for Conductors who put freedmen off the train when stealing a ride.

These claims and demands are still pending before the Bureau courts. I did not obey their orders to appear, and cannot therefore give you the exact condition of these claims and demands against the Company.

"The last demand is the smallest as well as the most despicable. General Canby demands that you, the stockholders, shall not elect officers to take charge and care of your property and stock. This order originated in Raleigh and not with Gen. Canby. It is despotism unsurpassed, and I venture will not intimidate the most timid stockholder, they will elect, if by so doing they go to the dungeon or the stake."

Superintendent—No Road has a more efficient Superintendent than James Anderson, complete master of every branch of his business. To him is justly due the successful working of the Road for the past year.

We have had the full benefit of all the skill, labor, and financial ability of one of the first financiers of the State. The Company was fortunate in its year of greatest financial difficulties in having Wm. A. Caldwell as Treasurer. The Board as well as Stockholders know well the worth of Mr. Stagg's services to the Company these twelve years. He knows more of the orders, contracts, books, accounts and liabilities of the Company than any other, (I came near saying than all other persons.) I have never known a more indefatigable worker or a better man.

Peter D. Swaim, general Freight and Ticket agent for many years, has performed the laborious duties of his office to the entire satisfaction of every administration through which he has served.

The best evidence of fidelity in a Conductor is that he keeps poor and not able to retire from so laborious a business. We have only four Conductors, fewer and better than were ever known to the Road before. Capt. Spragins, for years known as the model Conductor, who made best returns to the Treasury, has sometimes been equalled, and sometimes surpassed by Messrs. Turrentine, Davies and Watt. When Conductors are habitually behind in their monthly returns they should be suspected of negligence or playing false to the Company. The race with our Conductors has been to beat Capt. Spragins, sometimes in that they have all succeeded.

Station Agents, most of them are old officers of the Company, long identified with the road, and known for their efficiency and integrity.

A great work like the North Carolina Rail Road should not be operated for corporate gains alone, but to develope the resources and improve the country; to this end all emigrant tickets should be discontinued, all agricultural implements and fertilizers should be transported free of charge, or at least without profit to the Rail Road.

With thanks to the officers and men of the Road, for their efficiency and promptness in the discharge of their several duties, I will conclude this report by subscribing myself as I am,

Your obedient servant,
JOSIAH TURNER, Jr., Pres't.

THE REJECTED PHILS.

In a certain town, the board of selectmen who governed its local affairs was Composed of Universalists (or men who contended for the final happiness of all mankind, whether Christian or not) and a pious physician. They acted through the year in great harmony as to the business of the town, but at their last meeting it was determined to attack the religious doctor. After they had finished their transactions, one of them said:

"Doctor, we have been very happy in being associated with you the year past, and that the business of the town has been conducted in harmony, and to the satisfaction of our constituents. We have found you to be a man of good sense, extensive information, unbending integrity, and of the purest benevolence. It is astonishing to us that a man of your amiable character should believe in the doctrine of future punishment."

The doctor replied:

"Gentlemen, I should regret very much the forfeiture of the good opinion which your partiality has led you to entertain of me. Will you have the goodness to answer candidly a few questions? Do you believe in a future state?"

They replied, "We do."

"You believe that death will introduce all men to a state of perfect happiness?"

"Of this we have no doubt."

"Are you now happy?"

"We are not; we are far from it."

"How do men act when they are unhappy, and know that happiness is within their reach?"

"They endeavor to attain that happiness."

"Do you believe that I understand the nature and operation of medicine?"

"We have no doubt, doctor, of your skill in your profession; but what has that to do with the subject?"

"In this box," said the doctor, taking a tin box in his hand, "are pills, which, if you swallow each of you one, will, without pain, carry you, within one hour, out of this world of trouble; and, if your doctrine be true, place you in a world of perfect felicity. Will you accept of one of them?"

"No, sir."

"Will you?"

"No, sir."

When they all refused, the doctor said:

"You must excuse me, gentlemen, from embracing your doctrine, until I have better evidence that you believe it yourselves."

This closed the debate.

The Old Line Whigs.—The Petersburg Express has an article under the above caption, from which we extract the following:

None can deny that despite defeat, there is something noble in the political record of the old Whig party. In its history its most determined opponents can discover nothing to inspire a blush. A rare purity illustrated its administration. Its leaders were men, who, while their counsels were generally rejected by the people, yet always secured for themselves popular respect and admiration. And never did the followers of any political party cling to its principles with greater tenacity, support them with a more unflinching devotion, or bear its name even in defeat, with a prouder or more majestic mien.

To raise watermellons without seed the following plan has been successfully adopted by a planter in Caddo parish, La.: After the vine is about two feet long cover the vine at a point intermediate between the root. After it has taken root where it is covered, divide the vine between the old and new root, and the result will be that the melons will be seedless.

HORATIO SEYMOUR.

The people's candidate for the Presidency at the next election is a native of Utica, New York. His father, who was one of the earlier inhabitants of that city, and a native of Middlebury, Vermont, was one of the most distinguished citizens of Central New York, and at the time of his death, which occurred about thirty-five years ago, held the office of Canal Commissioner.

Horatio Seymour, after receiving a liberal education, studied the law, and was admitted to the bar. Being possessed of an ample fortune, and having embarked at an early age in that career in which he has been so successful and so justly popular, he never practised his profession. As a very young man he was the acknowledged favorite of the young Democracy of New York. His pure and spotless character, his sound judgment, and his fine oratorical powers rendered him, thirty years ago, by far the most conspicuous of the younger members of the Democratic party of the Empire State.

In 1850 Mr. Seymour was elected Governor of New York by a small majority, over Governor Washington Hunt. In 1852 he was reelected by a majority of over twenty thousand. In 1862 he was again elected to the same high office, his term expiring in January, 1866. He was, therefore, Governor of New York for two of the most important years of the late civil war; and it is a matter of record that he cordially cooperated with Mr. Lincoln's administration in all just measures for the vigorous prosecution of the war, and received the thanks of Mr. Lincoln for his exertions a short time previous to the death of the latter.

Governor Seymour is about fifty six years of age. His wife, a daughter of the late John R. Bleecker, of Albany, is universally admired for her intelligence, loveliness of character, and elegant manners. They have no children. Of Mr. Seymour's three sisters, one married Ledyard Sinclair, of Casenovia; another Mr. Shonnard, of Westchester; and another the Hon. Roscoe Conkling, United States Senator from New York.

Governor Seymour's speeches on subjects of great public interest during the last three or four years have been universally read, and have secured for him a national reputation. It is not extravagant to state that few speeches of the present day have made a deeper impression on the public mind than those of Governor Seymour.

If elected to the Presidency—as he undoubtedly will be, by an overwhelming majority—he will bring to the Presidential office talents equalled but by few of his predecessors. In patriotism and purity of character he will not suffer by a comparison with the brightest names in American history.

Singular Premonition of Death.—The Rev. Mr. Smith, who, since October last, held the pastorate of the M. E. Church at Leoni, died at his residence there on Tuesday afternoon of last week. His death was sudden, and the circumstances attending it rather peculiar. He preached twice the preceding Sunday, morning and afternoon, as usual. During the entire day he seemed to be impressed with the idea that he had not long to live, although he was then in perfect health as far as appearances indicated. In the course of one of his sermons he remarked, as though he was perfectly assured of the fact, that this would probably be the last time he should ever preach. He afterwards shook hands with many of his congregation, bidding them farewell, and saying that Heaven never seemed so near to him as it had that day. Late Sunday evening he was taken suddenly ill, and continued in great pain until 4 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon, when he died. His remains were taken to Ohio for interment.

Cruelty to Animals—The Check-Rein.—As a friend to that noble animal—the horse—let me remonstrate with all owners and drivers of horses against the shocking cruelty of the check-rein, during the hot weather especially. This check-rein is at all times a barbarous and cruel contrivance. It is exclusively English and American. On the continent of Europe one never sees it. Draught horses suffer from its use dreadfully. Who does not see daily in our streets the poor animal with his head unnaturally reined up high in the air, vainly striving for release from the intolerable pain and cramp, while he incessantly throws his head up or down, and turns appealingly to the right and left for momentary relief? At the same time we see the lazy drone of a driver dozing on his seat or cruelly lashing the poor creature to make him stand still under his pain.

It requires only a moment's observation to see that, by the check-rein, the draught-horse loses the benefit of his weight and is made to propel the load entirely by his muscle. Take the check-rein away, and, by simply moving forward, the mere momentum of his weight moves the load without pain to the horse.

Will not owners of all horses used in the draught take this friendly hint and abolish the useless and cruel check-rein.

A Joint Remonstrance Suggested.—The London Times, referring to the declination of the proffered mediation of the United States by the Emperor of Brazil, suggests that the Cabinet of Washington ought not to be left to act alone in this business, but that there should be a joint remonstrance of all or most of the States of Europe, no less than of America, against the further prosecution of a war, in which Brazil is half bankrupted, trade and commerce obstructed, and the sensibilities of all Christendom shocked by the horred spectacle of thousands of woman being sent to be butchered in battle. The Times recommends that the English government, in the name of manhood and humanity, take the initiative in this movement. A just tribute is paid to the valor of Paraguay, whose soldiers have "refused quarter when writhing on the ground in the last pangs of death," and it is observed that whatever share of the blame of the war may fall upon the Paraguayan dictator, "we cannot conceive how one man at the head of the government could command such unlimited sacrifices both of life and property from woman as well as from men as Lopez has hitherto obtained, if the instinct of self-immolation was not strong at the heart of the whole population, if the determination to do or die did not spring as spontaneously from the heart of the meanest Paraguayan as from that of the chief, whom his enemies designate as the cruel and cowardly Lopez."

Robbing Railroad Trains.—There is a new style of robbery lately introduced into this country, which bids fair to increase in popularity among rascals unless some means are taken to counteract it, and to punish sternly all who are engaged in it. Some time ago a locomotive, with an express car, was detached from a train in the West, and steam being put on, the engine and car were run away with, and, during the trip, the express car being robbed to the satisfaction of the rascals, they stopped the locomotive and got away with their plunder. On Friday last something of the same kind was attempted near Brownstown, Ind., on the Ohio and Mississippi railroad. The train there was captured by robbers, the engineer and firemen driven off, the engine and express car detached and run away with. After an eight or nine miles journey, the robbers stopped the train, and endeavored to get in the express car, but were met by a guard, which seemed to have been concealed therein, by which the assailants were driven off, and one of them badly wounded. The express guard was certainly a surprise, but there are so many other methods by which damage may be done to railroad trains that there is cause to fear that some new devilment will be devised more atrocious than anything that has gone before.

The number of deaths in New York city during the past week was 614, or 89 more than the corresponding week of last year, and 201 more than last week. The increase is caused by cholera infantum, sun stroke during the very hot days, and other casualties.

The health of school children has attracted the attention of the Massachusetts Board of Education, and their last report contains important statistics as to the exhausting effects of over exertion of the brain. In one school of 85 pupils, only 54 had refreshing sleep, 59 had headaches or constant weariness, and only 15 were perfectly well. The cause of this is thus accounted for: The most celebrated medical men, according to facts and opinions, given in this report, show that the hours devoted to brain-work should not exceed six hours for healthy men, and three hours for children. But in the above school it was found that, in addition to the six hours of school, 31 studied 31 hours, 35 four hours, and 12 from four to seven hours. The report states that in places where schools are highest in reputation, the above example is the common experience.

The Washington correspondent of the Boston Post relates that a soldier of the Twelfth infantry, now stationed at the capital, was complaining very bitterly because he had been deprived of his vote by the Radical party. He said his poor old mother, who had dandled him on her knee, would be sorely grieved to learn that her boy had shed his blood only that lazy, negroes might be elevated above him. He then commenced criticising Grant as a General, when a comrade interrupted, "But, friend, Grant whipped Lee." "Faith, and he did," was the reply "under the inspiring songs of We're coming Father Abraham, with three hundred thousand more,"—adding, "My father told me, when I was a boy, that a swarm of bees could kill a horse."

He recommends in strong language the removal of all disabilities from the people of Alabama, and bitterly opposes any disfranchisement except for crime.

Farewell Speech of Reverdy Johnson—Affecting Scene.—Reverdy Johnson took his farewell of the Senate to-day. The scene was a very affecting one. He attempted to read the speech which he had prepared, but his feelings overcame him, and he found he could neither see the words nor had he the voice to enunciate them. His frame trembled violently, and he was so filled with emotion that he was forced to take his seat. Senator Vickers, of Maryland, finished the reading, when all the Senators gathered about Mr. Johnson, and bade him good-bye. July 11th.

New York, July 14.—It is estimated that between twenty and thirty deaths have been caused by excessive heat within the last forty hours in New York and Brooklyn. Fourteen deaths from sun-stroke were reported by the police between twelve o'clock last night and eleven o'clock this morning. Numbers of persons prostrated by the heat were taken to their homes, and do not appear in the police reports. Since noon to-day over a dozen cases of sun-stroke have occurred, two of which were immediately fatal, and others are expected to prove fatal. Yesterday was the hottest 12th of July for ten years. Some enormous frauds in connection with the settlement of claims of negro soldiers have been discovered in Washington, and two prominent claim agents and several clerks in the Second Auditor's department are implicated in them. Another striking illustration of the sanctifying influence of moral ideas.

A lady near Norfolk received $10,000 last year for thirty acres of pears. A gentleman in the same locality sold apples from an orchard of eighteen acres for $8,000; and in Princess Anne county, an orchard set out three years yielded $404.

An Iowa woman, who falsely confessed the murder of her husband in order to have the life of her son, the real murderer, and has been in prison therefor several years, has been pardoned by the Governor.

Two mad steers recently entered a church in St. Louis, terribly frightening the congregation, but fortunately injuring no one.

The Hancock (Illinois) County Court has sent a horse thief to the State prison for seventeen years.

A farm of 120 acres in Loudoun county, belonging to John W. Pierpoint, was sold last week for $100 per acre.

THE CAROLINA FARMER.

BELIEVING that the interests of the Farmers and Planters of this section demand the publication of a periodical devoted to the advancement of Agriculture in the two Carolinas, we have determined to establish such a periodical under the title of THE CAROLINA FARMER, and will issue the first number as soon as a sufficient number of subscribers are obtained to pay a reasonable share of the expense of publication.

The Farmer will be issued monthly at $2 per annum, in advance; will contain not less than thirty-two large double-column pages of reading matter, bound in handsome covers; and in typographical execution will not be surpassed by any Agricultural Monthly in the country.

Being determined to do whatever energy will accomplish in making the Farmer worthy the support of the intelligent Planters and Farmers of North Carolina and South Carolina; and desiring to introduce it into every county in those States, we wish to employ active Agents at every Post-office, to whom the most liberal inducements will be offered.

Our exchanges in the two Carolinas will confer a favor, which we will be glad to reciprocate, by giving this announcement a few insertions in their advertising columns, with such editorial comment as they think the probable value of such a periodical as we propose publishing may justify.

Address all communications to
WM. H. BERNARD.

WOOL CARDING MACHINES.

AT Guess's Mills, six miles north of Durham's, are now ready for work, and the same experienced Carder, Wm. C. Clayton, that worked them last season will work them this season, and those having wool to card will do well to prepare it early, and prepare it well, and they may expect good work. The wool must be freed of all trash and burs, and well greased with one pound of grease to ten pounds of wool.

The following prices will be charged for carding wool; ten cents per pound for unmixed, and fifteen, for mixed, or one fifth part of the Wool.

We would take this method of returning our thanks to our friends for the very liberal patronage we received from them last season, and hope, by strict attention and good work, to merit a continuance of the same this season.
